Ars Medendi is a sculpture by Jim Sanborn featuring historic texts from the world of medicine cut into copper and granite, including a sequence of DNA.

All living things contain DNA. It is our common thread.

May the New Year 2019 illuminate our commonality and guide us all to peace, kindness, and good will.

Ars Medendi is located outside of the Scott Memorial Library, Thomas Jefferson University, Philadelphia.

HAPPY AND HEALTHY HOLIDAYS FROM THE AIDS LAW PROJECT OF PENNSYLVANIA

Founded in 1988, the AIDS Law Project of Pennsylvania is a nonprofit, public-interest law firm providing free legal assistance to people living with HIV. We serve all of Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey from our offices in Philadelphia and Camden County, NJ.

We have spent 30 bittersweet years on the front lines of the epidemic, serving people living with HIV who have no place else to turn. We are committed to continuing this work as long as necessary.

AIDS IS HARD ENOUGH.
JUSTICE SHOULDN'T BE.
